Plan Summary

Mission Statement:

The mission of Wabash County AACTION is to identify the needs of the area regarding alcohol, tobacco and other drug use and abuse, monitor programs which are recipients of Drug Free Indiana monies, and act as a resource in Wabash County for alcohol, tobacco and other drug information.

History:

In 1989 the Governor of the State of Indiana founded the Governor's Commission for a Drug-Free Indiana. Under this statute each county was to form or appoint an organization to act as a Local Coordinating Council. This Council was to have representation from the following areas: Youth Parent, Religion, Civic Organization, Law Enforcement, Judiciary, Local Government, Treatment, Medicine, Business, Media, Education, Self-Help, and Labor. This council would be given the responsibility of administering the local drug-free funds. These funds are raised, by statute, through fines levied by the courts for those convicted of drug and alcohol offenses.

Of the local drug-free monies collected, one-fourth goes to the State for administration of the program and the rest stays in the county where collected. The funds are administered by county government. The Local Coordinating Council (LCC) is responsible for seeking grant applications and recommending funding of local programs to the County Commissioners and County Council, who then approve the funding of these programs with the drug-free monies.

Each year the LCC writes a grant for drug-free money to fund the operation of the council. Since the monies are limited the amount available for operation is also limited.

In 1999, the Wabash County LCC decided that they would like to be able to apply for grants from other sources to help fund programs and informational materials they would like to develop. They also found that the name LCC was hard to explain and decided to change the name of the organization to be more descriptive of the function. The name was changed to Wabash County WASA (Working Against Substance Abuse) and in 2000 the group was incorporated as a 501 © (3) not-for-profit organization. An organization chart was developed with the LCC as a committee to do the functions of the drug-free Indiana statute. A budget was developed with part designated for a drug-free monies grant and part to be funded by other sources.

A grant was written in 2000 to the Community Foundation of Wabash County for monies to purchase office equipment and set-up an office in a business locations. This grant was approved and an office was established at 17 East Main Street, Wabash.

In 2001 WASA started the application to be the lead agency for the Tobacco Settlement dollars. This grant was given by the State of Indiana to one agency in each county. In June 2002 WASA received $53,800 for programs dealing with tobacco. The grant is an annual grant in that amount for two years with the possibility of another two years if the State Legislature continues to fund the program.

In the fall of 2003, WASA, Inc. modified their organizational structure to include a self-appointing executive board. The LCC was made a committee under this board with non-voting representation to the board. Following a series of meetings a decision was made by the WASA executive board to discharge the LCC committee from WASA, Inc. WASA, Inc. retained all functions dealing with the Tobacco Settlement.

A group of interested community members were gathered to restructure a new LCC. The by-laws for this new organization, Wabash County LCC, were adopted in December 2003 and approved by the state.

In June 2004 Wabash County LCC adopted the name of Wabash County AACTION (Against Alcohol, Controlled Substances and Tobacco In Our Neighborhoods).

The elected officers for 2006 are:

Chairperson	David Young, North Manchester Police Department
Vice President	Helen Chambers, Hands of Hope / Family Service Society
Secretary	Linda Wilk, Hands of Hope / Family Service Society
Treasurer	Donna Bogert, Youth Service Bureau

Summary of the Comprehensive Community Plan:

During 2006 Wabash County AACTION had the limited opportunity to utilize the services of a Lily Grant Intern, Sarah Samblanet, from Manchester College. With the assistance of Sarah we have been able to compile more accurate statistical data, as it applies to ATOD issues in Wabash County, than has been previously available. This opportunity may not be available again in the foreseeable future. Wabash County AACTION has taken this opportunity to complete a Comprehensive Community Plan instead of a plan update. The CCP includes updated and current information which accurately reflects the needs of Wabash County and has assisted us in focusing our grant efforts as well as specific areas of need to be focused on by the LCC in 2007.

Problem Identification

Problem Statement #1: Residents of Wabash County have untreated ATOD (alcohol, tobacco, other drugs) behaviors.

Supportive Data:

- Wabash County AACTION Survey 2006
 - 58.9% of respondents know someone who has a drug problem
 - 80% of respondents know an adult(s) who has an alcohol problem
 - 70.2 % of respondents know youth who use and/or have alcohol problems
 - Most respondents believe Wabash County has a drug problem.
 - 42.9% of respondents agreed that Wabash County "very much" has a drug problem
 - 24.4% indicated that the problem lies between "somewhat" and "very much"
 - 23.1% indicated that Wabash County has "somewhat" of a drug problem
 - Very small percentages (2.9% and 0.3% respectively) believed the problem to be less or nonexistent
 - Most respondents believe Wabash County has an alcohol problem.
 - 35.1% of respondents agreed that Wabash County "very much" has an alcohol problem
 - 26.5% indicated that the problem lies between "somewhat" and "very much"
 - 22.8% indicated that Wabash County has "somewhat" of a alcohol problem
 - 7.9% were not sure
- Research conducted by Step Ahead (2005) indicates the following perceptions regarding the frequency of illegal drug use and underage drinking in Wabash County:

illegal drugs are...	used very much	41%
	used some	30%
	used little / no use	2.8%
	do not know	20%
underage drinking occurs...much		51%
	some	30%
	little/none	3%
	do not know	13%

 - Underage drinking was thought to occur "much" or "some" by 81% of respondents, and illegal drug use was thought to occur "very much" or "some" by 71% of respondents.
- Bowen Center served 381 clients who were dependent upon or abusing alcohol and/or other drugs (including nicotine, controlled substances, and legend drugs): 239 for alcohol (63%), 137 for other drugs (36%) and 5 for poly-substance (1%). (2005 and 2006)

- The Bowen Center is the only identified primary provider of alcohol and drug treatment in Wabash County.
- Without insurance or adequate financial arrangements the Bowen Center will not provide treatment for alcohol or drug abuse.
- During the fall of 2005 and the spring of 2006, 27 people participated in smoking cessation sessions through Health Education LCC.
- In 2004, Hands of Hope / Family Service Society Inc., a program serving victims and families of domestic violence and sexual assault, reported that 112 primary victims and 149 secondary victims were served. Of these cases, over 45% involved drug or alcohol use. One alcohol related case resulted in homicide. Between January and August 31, 2005, Hands of Hope reported 78 cases with over 43% involving drug or alcohol use.
- The Wabash County Hospital Emergency Department saw a total of 133 people for the following emergencies (2005-2006):

▪ ETOH	57
▪ Drug Poisoning	1
▪ Alcohol Intoxication	29
▪ Overdose	38
▪ Substance Abuse	3
▪ Drug Withdrawal	1
▪ Nicotine Addiction	4
▪ TOTAL	133
- Manchester College student health assistants aided 8 students experiencing medical issues with alcohol use (2004-2005 and 2005-2006)

Problem Statement #2: Education and prevention programs lack adequate funding to address the significant alcohol, tobacco and other drug problems in Wabash County.

Supportive Data:

- Wabash County AACTION Survey 2006
 - Survey totals:
 - A total of 3 surveys were collected from the 18-20 age group.
 - A total of 30 surveys were collected from the 10-17 age group.
 - All other age groups represented at least 36-82 survey responses.
 - Youth are under-represented in the survey data, making it difficult to generalize the results to Wabash County youth. Due to this, perceptions among Wabash County youth regarding alcohol, tobacco, and other drug(s) use are unclear.
- Wabash County AACTION Survey 2006
 - 13.3% of respondents did not know and 22.1% of respondents were not sure whom to contact if they knew someone who had a drug/alcohol problem.
 - 28.8% of respondents indicated that Wabash County residents “somewhat” receive sufficient ATOD education; 16.7% were not sure. A minority of respondents indicated that residents received sufficient education “very much” or “not at all.” This suggests that ATOD education is available, but could be improved.
- Manchester College reports that 5% of the students counseled in the fall of 2005 (19 students), and 4% of the students counseled in the Spring 2006 (14 students) were for alcohol related problems (counseled by the Manchester College counseling staff).
- Many older adults declined taking the Wabash County AACTION Survey because they did “not know much about drugs” or because their children are grown or they no longer have children/grandchildren in school. There seems to be a perception among some older adults that drug problems only exist among youth.
- Research conducted by Step Ahead (2005) indicates the following perceptions regarding the frequency of underage drinking in Wabash County:

underage drinking occurs...much	51%
some	30%
little/none	3%
do not know	13%

 - Underage drinking was thought to occur “much” or “some” by 81% of respondents.
- All three school districts in Wabash County have student assistance programs. A total of 7 students in the Metropolitan School District (2004 and 2005), and 5 students in Manchester Community Schools (2006) utilized the Student Assistance Program for substance abuse issues.

- Between 2002 and 2006, 16 expulsions or suspensions in the Metropolitan School District involved drugs, alcohol, or weapons.
- Wabash City Schools District had 2 suspensions for alcohol, tobacco, and/or drugs during the 2004-2005 school year. The district had 9 expulsions for alcohol, tobacco, and/or drugs; 33 suspensions for alcohol, tobacco, and/or drugs (alcohol: 3, drugs: 13, tobacco: 17) during the 2005-2006 school year.
- Manchester Community Schools had 2 expulsions in 2006, one for alcohol and one for tobacco. It also suspended 6 students (2006) for tobacco.
- A total of 159 Manchester College students have attended Alcohol Seminars between 2003 and 2006 as a result of campus alcohol violations. Each school year, the number of students required to attend has increased: 24 (2003-04); 59 (2004-05); 76 (2005-06).

Objectives:

- Target youth populations, particularly ages 18-20, in Wabash County with program funding regarding ATOD (alcohol, tobacco, other drugs) issues.
- Publish monthly articles in local newspapers.
- Use the media, community events, and other public display events to promote awareness.
- Provide ATOD (alcohol, tobacco, other drugs) education materials to those who may not otherwise received this information.
- Establish a speaker's bureau.
- Increase educational programming and activities for those age brackets not presently supported: 6-10, 15-18, young adults and senior citizens.
- Provide continuing education opportunities for professional and interested individuals and agencies.

- Increase availability and funding of life-skill programs, i.e. after school activities.
- Increase assistance to abuse victims, i.e. those affected by ATOD (alcohol, tobacco, other drugs) abusers.
- Provide additional support for Afternoons R.O.C.K. and other ATOD alternative programs to include summer programs and unsupported age groups (under age 10 and over age 14).
- Continue to support and increase availability of School, College or Community ATOD alternative activities, ie: after-prom, drug-free supervised activities and education (through groups such as Boy/Girl Scouts and the Youth Service Bureau), educational speakers at Manchester College, and others.
